

Laura Adlers is a Canadian nonprofit and arts executive, consultant, and cultural advocate with over three decades of experience in executive leadership, fundraising, strategic planning, and artistic administration. She holds a Master of International Arts Management (MM) from HEC Montréal, in partnership with Southern Methodist University, Universidad de los Andes, and SDA Bocconi, and has held executive and consulting roles at some of Canada's most respected cultural and performing arts organizations, most notably Luminous Voices (Calgary), The Elora Singers and Elora Festival, and Business for the Arts (Toronto). A published Latvian-English literary translator and passionate promoter of Latvian choral culture, Laura was appointed an Officer of the Cross of Recognition by the Republic of Latvia in 2020. As Founder of The Adlers Agency, she currently offers fractional executive leadership, interim management and special project consulting to nonprofit and arts organizations across North America.
